

One day when Beth goes to the kitchen in the morning, she realizes that somebody had stolen her money during the night. She meets with Rio in a bar because she thinks that he is involved in what happened. Rio tells her that even though he sent someone to catch the money, he won't give it back because an associate of him got picked up and he'll be out of business for a while.

The girls need legitimately money and they do different things to have it. For example, Annie takes more shifts at work while Ruby starts working in Randy's doughnut but Beth instead of working, she steals from Dean. At the end of the month they pay to Mary two thousand dollar although they agreed in ten thousand. Mary instead of be grateful that she has a new income goes to a Ruby's daughter football match to blackmail her that she'll talk if she doesn't get the rest of what they owe to her.

Beth wants to rob again and at firsts Ruby and Annie where against it, Annie because she has to maintain a low profile, she had been caught with drugs and Ruby because her daughter was found stealing in school and she thinks about which example is giving to her daughter but after a few days the end up saying yes. The only think that is missing is a place where to rob.

That night, Annie is at Gregg's house because she can't be alone with Sadie, the police prohibited her and she discovers a few things. First that Gregg is cheating on her bride, second, that Gregg's bride is looking forward to have a child. Finally, that the girls can steal without gun robbing a place without guards, for example Gregg's brides SPA.

The girls steal oil products from the SPA. Annie had arranged to buy what they'll steal to the dealer of her job but when he sees the cosmetic products; he says that he can't sell that to anyone and leaves. Beth tries to sell it to Rio; however, he doesn't care. When Beth comes home with all the cosmetic products Dean asks if he could help with something and Beth tells him how they get that stuff and why they need to sell it. The following day Dean goes to his "cancer doctor" and sell it all.

Despite of getting the money, Ruby is very afraid because Stean tells her about the young prisoner that is being interrogated. Its results that it is Rio's associate and he can talk about them.
