

Julian had a bad time while he was in confinement. He could see the hooded man around him; therefore, he felt very nervous and he even hurt himself. The staff decided to give him drugs to maintain him calmed. Vera, now allowed to visit Julian, saw how he was and complained.

Harry was investigating Glen Fisher, the man that appeared punching someone in the tape. He was staking out a brothel where Glen usually came. Suddenly, Glen's car appeared and a harlot got in his car. When he left, Harry went to talk but she didn't want to talk.

Vera called Harry because she was worried about Julian. Harry went to Mosswood, but he had more important things to talk about. He showed her a video of Carmen Bell, a girl telling to the police her experience in Mosswood. In the video, she explained the violent rituals that they had and that they got her to abort. No way to go, Vera decided to tell the truth and then a couple of flashback starts.

In the flashback, Vera looked very worried about the injuries in the sessions and talked with Lionel about it. He excused saying that is necessary to cure the traumas inside us. Vera wasn't satisfy with this answer and decided that it had to stop. She cancelled a session, a session where Glen Fisher was coming. She didn't want more violence.

In another scene, Marin was giving birth to Julian. She felt sad because she couldn't breastfeed her own child. For reasons that I don't know, Vera could breastfeed Julian so she started to do it. She was taking care of him more than her mother.

When Lionel discovered that Vera cancelled a session, he took Julian from her. He said that she was being very sensitive. That was the last straw that broke the camel's back. The following day she poisoned him and started to take care of Mosswood.

After these flashbacks, coming back to the present time at the history, a group of divers found a body in the lake. It had to be Marin, Heather thought. After sawing the skull, Harry went to visit Julian. He had achieved to put him in an orphanage once again. He told him that he shouldn't come back to Mosswood. Julian talked about his nightmares and Harry told him that maybe the hooded man was his feeling of guilty and maybe he had to fight and not to be afraid. He also told him that he was the one who burned the house when he was a child, not her mother.

That night, Julian saw a hooded man entering in his room. He thought it was his imagination, but in this case a really person came in and kidnapped him. That is not having the luck on your side indeed.
