

Remember that at the end of the last episode, Harry wakes up in the room where Julian murdered their fake parents. He doesn't remember anything about how he came there so he checks the cameras on the streets to see it. The cameras don't show something wrong; he went with his car and rented a room.

On the trial, he decides to ask Vera what happened but she doesn't speak too much. When the session finishes, Heather asks Vera if she knows Marin. Vera says that maybe she knows her but a lot of people went to Mosswood. Heather gets angry because she is sure that she knows her and she denounces her for not being Julian's mother. She denies it but Julian hears that and doesn't want to talk with Vera anymore. He doesn't allow her to visit him.

Vera calls Harry because she wants to see him. They meet and she asks him if he could testify on Julian's behavior. She is afraid about losing the case. She also admits that she isn't the real mother, but she says that she is indeed the mother because she raised him. When the police discover that Harry is listed on Julian's witness for trial, he is taken off of the case because they think he is on Vera's side. Heather and her father are really mad at him, in fact Heather's father kicks him out of the house.

There are a few flashbacks showing a lot of things that happened in Mosswood. At first, we witness a ritual like the one in the tape and we can see that the leader Lionel allows a lot of violence within the rituals. Later, we can see the moment when Marin comes to Mosswood and meets Lionel. They have a private chat in his room.

In another scene of the flashback, Lionel brings a cow and says to Vera "We'll raise him, all of us together and make him one of us" and he suggests Vera to call him. But all the love in the cow ends when they offer it in a ritual.

The last scene on the flashbacks occurs in Lionel's room. Vera and him are talking and Vera tells him that Marin is pregnant and she wants to have it. Even though it's not allowed to raise children in Mosswood and she can't have it, Lionel suggests that she should have it. He says the same words than the time with the cow "We'll raise him, all of us together and make him one of us".